

CENTER FOR HEMISPHERIC DEFENSE STUDIES (CHDS)

The Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies (CHDS) is the result of the Defense Ministerial of the Americas, a process that began in 1995. This educational center is designed for specific requirements of the Western Hemisphere so that many countries may strengthen civilian leadership the areas of defense and security in revitalized democracies. In support of this program, the Government of the United States has conducted courses/conferences for an approximate total amount of $25,522.